SHOT A GIRL AND WILL WED HER.
Henry P. Entwistle, a young machinist, sentenced in Lowell, Mass., in 1892 to 15 years in prison for shooting Maria Clegg with intent to kill, has been pardoned through the efforts of the girl, and will marry her.

Entwistle and Miss Clegg had been friendly for several months, and finally became engaged. The father of the girl broke the engagement, because he thought that the young man was not industrious enough to support a wife, and on the evening of October 6, 1891, Entwistle went to the Massachusetts mill, where Miss Clegg was employed as a weaver, joined the hundreds of operators who were going from their work, and when he saw the girl he had loved in front of him, drew a revolver and fired at her four times, the bullet shot entering her lungs. He surrounded himself, and, after a sensational trial, was sentenced to 15 years' imprisonment. The girl recovered after a long illness. During the past month the girl that Entwistle tried to kill has visited him every two weeks. The efforts for his pardon were made quietly. Friday the marriage license was taken out. It is understood the young people are to sail at once for England.

CHINA MUST GET CIVILIZED.—A dispatch from Shanghai says: Highly interesting and important conditions of peace are proposed by Japan, which evidently intends to compel China to learn the arts of civilization. In addition to the independence of Korea, the war indemnity, and the cession of Formosa and Lio Tung province, including Port Arthur, Japan requires that China shall allow the unhampered importation of machinery into her territory and the establishing and management of manufactures by foreigners. She must pledge herself, moreover, to open to the vessels of all nations the Yangtze river as far as Chung-King-Foo, the Siang-Kiang as far as Siang-Tan-Kiao, the Canton river as far as On-Choo-Foo, the Wusung river and the canal as far as Su Choo to the north and Hang-Chu-Foo to the south. China must provide permanently the Wusung bar and provide means to maintain constantly a depth of water sufficient for large vessels; and the cities of Chung-King-Foo, On-Choo-Foo, Su Choo-Foo, Hang-Chu-Foo and others to be hereafter agreed upon must be open up to foreign commerce. Japan emphasizes the fact that she does not desire for herself commercial advantages that are not extended to the other treaty powers.
